

Sentence Strips

Read the following sentences. Circle each verb, draw a line under each noun, and draw two lines under each adjective. Then put the sentences in the correct order to make a dialogue between a doctor and her patient.

I think I'm sick. I feel nauseous and I am dizzy all the time.

See me again in three days if you are not better.

Yes, I feel very tired and my muscles hurt.

I think you have the flu.

Well, you can also take aspirin for your fever.

Do you have any medicine for me? I need to get well fast.

Hello, Mrs. Bolovsky. How are you today?

Is that all? What more can I do?

When will I feel better?

Do you have any other symptoms?

No, there is no medicine for the flu. You must drink plenty of fluids and get a lot of sleep.
